Children's Music GRAMMY Award winners, Cathy Fink & Marcy Marxer have been making music with and for kids and families for over 35 years. Their music is for sharing and their performances invite every audience to sing along, yodel along and even scat sing! They have sung at the Library of Congress, Smithsonian Institution, White House Easter Egg Roll, John F. Kennedy Center for the Arts and at schools, concert halls and community centers all over the world.
Instrumentation:

Five-String Banjo - Originally from Africa, the banjo has gone through many incarnations and influences. In the Appalachian Mountains, it’s sound is a melding of African and European roots.

Watch “CATHY & MARCY IN BANJOLAND” on YouTube: http://tinyurl.com/gsghze2

Cello Banjo – This four stringed instrument was originally played in the Banjo Orchestras of the early 1900’s, when there were banjos of all different sizes from the tiny piccolo banjo to the giant bass banjo. It is tuned exactly like a cello. Marcy plays the Cello Banjo on this song, “Jubilation” with guitar, cello banjo and beat boxing and puppets: http://tinyurl.com/hpcyc48

Ukulele – Portugese sailors brought a small guitar-like instrument called a “machete” to Hawaii. It was quickly adopted by Hawaiian royalty and became an important part of Hawaiian culture. It was also popular for Tin Pan Alley songs and is currently enjoying a new popularity.

Marcy has FREE Ukulele lessons for kids here: http://tinyurl.com/josnwhx

Acoustic Guitar - A wooden box, with strings and a sound hole, originally from Spain. Wikipedia says, “The guitar is a type of chordophone, traditionally constructed from wood and strung with either gut, nylon or steel strings and distinguished from other chordophones by its construction and tuning. The modern guitar was preceded by the gittern, the vihuela, the four-course Renaissance guitar, and the five-course baroque guitar, all of which contributed to the development of the modern six-string instrument.”

Electric Guitar – Les Paul (1915-2009) figured out how to attach a metal pickup to his guitar that would convert the vibration of the strings into electric signals. Guitar music has never been the same.

Mandolin – Originally from Italy, the mandolin has eight strings in four courses of two strings together. It is tuned like a violin and played in bluegrass, folk and old-time country music.

Hammered Dulcimer - Often called the “Lumberjack’s piano” because of it’s portability, the hammered dulcimer works like the inside of a piano. On a piano, the player strikes a key, which moves a hammer, which strikes a string inside the piano to make it ring. On the Hammered Dulcimer, the player holds the hammer (with a felt or leather tip) and directly strikes on the strings, which are strung across a trapezoidal board or table with a sound box.

Djembe – One of many African drum types.

Homemade Instruments: Oatmeal Box Banjo, Oatmeal Box Drums, Musical Washboard
Performance Song List & Activities
Subject to Change, but may include the following:

Howjadoo – by Woody Guthrie
Woodrow Wilson Guthrie is best known for his song, “This Land Is Your Land”. He wrote many children’s songs including “Put Your Finger in the Air”, “Mail Myself To You” and “Why, Oh, Why”. Check out the Woody Guthrie Center at http://woodyguthriecenter.org

Scat Like That – by Cathy Fink
“Scat” is defined as “Jazz singing in which improvised, meaningless syllables are sung to a melody.” And as a verb it is defined, “To sing Scat.” This big band call-and-response encourages skills in listening, repetition and articulation as children emulate the scat sounds.

From the CD, “Scat Like That” available at www.cathymarcy.com/store

Activities:
* For some extra fun, make up your own scats. Improvise call and response scat singing with students. After they get the hang of it, get them to lead some of the call and response.

Examples for spoken “scat: call and response”
    Skit scat kitty cat
    Be bop a doo wop
    Wee bop a be bop

* Try having 2 students have a “scat” conversation.
* Who were some of Jazz’s greatest singers? You may also want to listen to recordings by Louis Armstrong, Ella Fitzgerald, Dinah Washington, etc.

Learn to Yodel/Grandma Slid Down the Mountain - by Rich Wilbur
To yodel, you need to know all of your vowel sounds. This Western story includes a pair of sisters who have learned to yodel together, and practice so often on the farm that one of their cows tries to join in! And don’t forget about those consonants.

*Learn to yodel! It uses vowel sounds AA and EE and OO

* Listen to other yodeling and see if you can transcribe it.

Breakfast Power – by Cathy Fink
This song, from the GRAMMY winning recording about health and nutrition, “Bon Appetit!: Musical Food Fun”, emphasizes the importance of putting fuel into your body every morning, in the form of a healthy breakfast.

Potato – by Cheryl Wheeler

This is an awesome tongue twister and can be used for linguistics, and nutrition discussions. The potato gets a bad rap in nutrition, but only because of its least healthy version, French fries. A baked potato with a little broccoli and/or cheese is a nutritious meal nearly on its own.

From the CD, “Bon Appetit!: Musical Food Fun”

- They’re red, they’re white, they’re brown
- They get that way underground
- There can’t be much to do
- So now they have blue ones too

- We don’t care what they look like we’ll eat them
- Any way they can fit on our plate
- Every way we can conjure to heat them
- We’re delighted and think they’re just great

- Potato potato potato po
- Tatopo tatopo tatopo ta
- Topota topota topota to
- Potato potato potato

- Sometimes we ditch the skin
- To eat what it’s holding in
- Sometimes we’d rather please
- Have just the outside with cheese

- They have eyes but they do not have faces
- I don’t know if their feelings get hurt
- By just hanging around in dark places
- Where they only can stare at the dirt

- I guess the use is scant
- For other parts of the plant
- But that which grows in view
- Is eating potato too

- I imagine them under their acres
- Out in Idaho and up in Maine
- Maybe wondering if they’ll be bakers
- Or knishes or latkes or plain

A Ballet Dancing Truck Driver – by Marcy Marxer
Recording: “CHANGING CHANNELS”
Skill/Concept: Listening, sequencing, fluency, coordination (hand motions), memory
This song also challenges students to be open minded about what jobs can be done by girls and what jobs can be done by boys, or when older, women and men.

When The Rain Comes Down – by Bob Devlin
Recording: “When the Rain Comes Down” by Cathy & Marcy
This simple song is about love and equality and we sing it with Hammered Dulcimer accompaniment and American Sign Language. You can watch and learn the song on YouTube here: http://tinyurl.com/jarjz4e

When the rain comes down
It comes down on everyone
When the rain comes down
It comes down on everyone
No matter if you’re rich or poor
No matter if you’re great or small
When the rain comes down
It comes down on us all
When the sun shines down
It shines down on everyone
When a flower blooms
It’s blooming for everyone...
When a baby smiles
It’s smiling for everyone...
When the rain comes down...

Air Guitar – by Pete Kennedy
